

Crónica desde Londres - Marzo 2015

Pasos para seguir para registrarse en el ARB y RIBA:

Lo primero que hay que hacer es pedir la acreditación del título al Ministerio de Educación, se puede hacer a través de la Sede Electrónica.

En la directiva 2005/36/CE se pueden ver cuáles son las universidades y escuelas cuyos títulos son homologados:

<https://sede.educacion.gob.es/dctm/ministerio/horizontales/servicios01/estudiantes/convalidacion-homologacion-titulos/estudios-universitarios/2010-directiva-2005.pdf?documentId=0901e72b800d06d1>

El procedimiento para pedir la acreditación está explicado en el siguiente enlace:

<https://sede.educacion.gob.es/catalogo-tramites/gestion-titulos/estudios-universitarios/titulos-obtenidos-en-espana/acreditacion-titulos-directiva-comunitaria.html>

Será necesario presentar el título o certificado sustitutorio, y un certificado con las asignaturas cursadas.

Una vez obtenida la acreditación por parte del Ministerio de Educación, para registrarse en el ARB sólo será necesario una dirección, documento de identidad y pagar la cuota correspondiente.

En Reino Unido el título de arquitecto está protegido, lo que quiere decir que sólo lo puedes usar si tienes la cualificación necesaria y si estás registrado.

A la hora de buscar trabajo, se puede ver que hay ofertas para Architectural Assistant, Part 1, Part 2, Part 3, Architect. Es importante saber cuáles son sus diferencias para optar al puesto que mejor se ajuste a nuestras características.

Para poder registrarse en el RIBA (Royal Institute of British Architects), es necesario haber estudiado aquí el Part 3, aunque existe la posibilidad de registrarse si se justifica que se tienen unos determinados años de experiencia aquí:

<http://www.architecture.com/RIBA/Becomeanarchitect/Route%20to%20becoming%20an%20architect/Internationalgraduatesandarchitects.aspx>

Con cinco años de experiencia aquí podremos solicitar registrarnos como RIBA Chartered Membership, y con menos de cinco años como RIBA Associate Membership.

En cualquier caso, lo mejor es ponerse en contacto con el ARB o RIBA en el momento de pensar en registrarse.
